OVERVIEW

In 2005, the Government of Ontario passed the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA), which requires that Ontario be an accessible province by 2025. To help public, private and non-profit organizations identify, prevent and remove barriers to accessibility, the AODA contains accessibility standards in areas including:

- Customer Service
- Information and Communications
- Employment
- Transportation
- Design of Public Spaces - Built Environment

The accessibility standard for Customer Service came into effect in 2008. Information and Communications, Employment, Transportation and Design of Public Spaces - Built Environment standards have been combined into the Integrated Accessibility Standards Regulation (IASR). The IASR is now law and the requirements will be phased-in over time.

This document will update the progress and measures taken by Peel Regional Police to implement strategies to identify, prevent and remove barriers and to serve as a report on compliance with the Act and related Standards to the end of 2013.
